American Museum of Natural History Event - April 6, 2015

On April 6, 2015, the Eve Fenton Love-All Foundation hosted an outreach event for kids and their families at the American Museum of Natural History. Alan Zayas, a branch manager at the D'Agostino Supermarket, worked in concert with Vicki on this inspirational and innovative outreach mission. Alan did a spectacular job in getting the group together with heart and soul.

A gigantic thank you to the museum for their sponsorship over the years. Their cultural endeavors have far surpassed many other museums.

The American Museum of Natural History is a humanitarian, cultural and history lesson in and of itself. "Reach for a star and you will be blessed with a galaxy," TM, by Eve Fenton. The D'Agostino Supermarket and Alan Zayas should be considered a very special constellation in our galaxy. The planetarium turned out to be a very special treat for one and all.

Thank you!

Vicki Fenton, CEO & President
