

THE CITY OF NEW YORK
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR
NEW YORK, NY 10007

July 3, 2006

Dear Friends:

It is a great pleasure to welcome everyone to the Ronald McDonald House for this celebration of Independence Day and the Eve Fenton Love-All Foundation.

New York City's future is only as bright as the prospects of its young people. The Eve Fenton Love-All Foundation is working diligently to ensure that our kids have access to the resources they need. Although the scope of the Foundation's programming is broad – including initiatives in education, health, and the arts – its mission is simple: improve the lives of our young people.

The publisher Hodding Carter said, "There are two lasting bequests we can give our children: one is roots, the other is wings." New York City and the Eve Fenton Love-All Foundation are working to provide children with a stable foundation upon which to build their future.

Please accept my best wishes for an enjoyable event and continued success.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Michael R. Bloomberg".
